OLIVER LUCAS, Local Editor and Reporter WEDNESDAY, MAY 8, 1861.

The following resolutions have been almost every proposition for reconciliation and the unauimously passed through both houses of the In liana State Legislature: 11. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That in time of war between the Government of the United States and its enensies, no State of the Union has a right to rep deate its constitutional obligations as far as dute its constitutional obligations as far as to assert its neutrality in such war.

"2. Be it farther resolved, That a constitutional obligation rests upon the General Government of the United Statos and upon the several State Governments to support the National Constitution, enforce the laws, and protect the lives, liberties, property, and all constitutional rights of citizens in all parts of the Union. That the people of Indiana acknowledge the binding force of this obligation, and that under the unthority of the United States they will hold themselves in readiness to furnish military force to co-operate will ness to furnish military force to co-operate with the friends of the Union in any State where the constitutional rights of patriotic citizens are or shall be assailed by traitors and armed enemies

Indiana remember, with gratitude, the gallant conduct of Kentuckians who came as volunteers and poured out their blood at Tippecance, and at other battle-fields within our bordere, to aid in protecting the wives, daughlers, and children of Indianians from the tomahawk end scalping knife of savages; end that we stant rosdy nt the call of Kentuckians to aid them as hothers, relatives, and friends in the defence of their homes and lireflag of South Carolina, are in open rebellion

We call the attention of the members of the Legislature, and of the people of the State, to these facts: The peace and welfare of the Commonwealth may depend on the heed they give them, and the action they take.—Courier We do not charge, we do not believe, that the editor of the Courier made an intentionally false statement in regard to this matter, but his statement is entirely without foundation. It is untrue, and it is calculated to do mischief. It is intended to do mischief-intended to crealc, what its author is laboring daily to create, a feeling of hostility between Indiana and Kentucky. He seizes with avidity upon every loose and floating rumor for the accomplishment of his purpose and publishes it without putting himself to the trouble of enquiring whether there is a particle of truth in it or not. He isn't unscrupulous, but he isn't half scrupulous enough,

The e liter of the Courier publishes the resolutions above as having been passed unanimous ly by both Honses of the Indiana Legislature. The first of those resolutions, to the effect, that, in time of war, no State of the Union has a right to assert its neutrality, a resolution ain ed at the position of Kentucky and published by the Courier because thus aimed, was not passed by the Indiann Legislature either unanimously or at all. In the discussion that followed the presentation of the resolutions in Kentucky does now; that it was the business of vesterday. I have endeavored by every means in my power, and every influence at my command, to restrain our nwn citizens from any act which might have even the appearance of aggression upon the rights of the people of the neighboring States. In these efforts I have been, so fur as I can learn, entirely successful. Our citizens have abstained with lendable forbearance not only from aggressions, but from any acts of retalintion, in the face of thegrant invasions of their rights. My especial attention has been diracted to the continuance of commercial relations with the neighboring States, end to prevent any interruption of the usual and lawful trade of the states, regarding this character of intercourse as the very strongest bond of amity and peace.
> I was much gratified to receive a commissioner from Governor Dennison, of Ohio, who called upon me to express the regret of the Executive of Ohio that any circumstance should interrupt the friendly relations and good understanding between the citizens of the two States, and his desire and readiness at all times to employ his official influence for the suppression of any acts of violence or aggression eltempted to be precticed by citizens of Olio towards the poople of this State. I responded in the same spirit, and pledged my most earnest efforts to co-operate with the Governor of Ohio in this endeavor to maintain the peace along our border, and to continue free and open all the channels of trade. A similar understanding was effected with the Governor of Indiana; and, so far, I have no reason to doubt that either has failed to adhere in good faith to the amicable arrangement. I have labored to carry it out with our citizens, and have most bannily succeeded. most happily succeeded.
> I regret to say, however, that the Executives of Obio and Indiana, though, no doubt, sustained by the mass of their own conservative people, have not been equally succeedful in their efforts to control some of their lawless citizens. Acts of aggressian have been committed by citizens of those States upon the rights of our people, Priva's property belonging to citizens of this State in lawful transit has been stopped, the trade of our people is impeded by force, our commerce is interrupted, and citizens of Kentucky, guilty of no pretended act of disloyalty to the State or Federal Governments, are now suffering serious and heavy losses by reason of these lawless acts. LOUISVILLE JOURNAL PROF. GIVE HIM A THADE.—The advice of Franklin, to give every child a trade by which ha can earn a living. If necessary, c mos of a human experience older than the sage of our revolution. In some countries this has been the law; in others, a common custom. St. Paul, though educated in the law, of the feel of Gamaliel, also equired the imperiant oriental handicraft of a tent-meker. by which he was kind to early distributed by the proceduling his mission.

It is a good and wise thing to do. You may be able to leave your children furtures; but "riches take to themselves wings." You may give to them full be to them fully and they may be gifted with extraordinary genius; but they may be placed in situations where no education and no takent may be so explictly as come humble loop. trede, by which they can get their living an li need not take seven years. Several months of earnost work are, in some cases, cufficient tearn an ordinary lusiness. If every young person, male and female, were obliged, in the interon, male and female, were obliged, in the intervals of study, preparatory or profess onal, to learn farming, gardening, shoomaking, tailoring, blackstribing; or, if ladies, nillinery or dress-making, or one of twenty kinds of work or business, it would always give them a feeling of security and independence. It is well for every one to have semithing to fall heak upon. We do not know what revolutions may come in our time. We do not know what inisfortunes may come to us individually. You can use this, or any pert of R, in any shape you think proper, If it is worth anything by you. will will, if his experience and verseily are worth enything, prove invaluable in the relief of this forment: Take cipal quantities of alun and commensalt, pulverize and mix them, and apply them to the hollow tooth on a wet piece of cotton. The remedy is very simple, very chesp, and within the reach of all. If any one will try it he will find it infallfule.

BLESSINGS IN DESCRIPP.

BLESSINGS IN DESCRIPP. A Datch preacher, who was warmly iclined in favor of the torspirity during the Revolutionary war, happened to get into en American camp ou Sunday, and was consequently called on for a sermon and a prayer. He from force of habit commenced the latter with "Got pless lee king," wherether here was considerable excitement among the subligers, when he perceived it, he, with admirable presence of mind, continued:

"Yes, mine hearers, I zay Got pless de king pless him mit blenty of hard I times—pless him mit a short life—unt Lordt, Lordt, uny we have in uners of him?"

A good story is told of St. Kevin, a religious gentleman, who lived by the lish he caught in the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes, which shows he was subjected to the Irisb lakes.
